INCIDENT OF A RECENT GAME OF "LIBRARY" IN WASHINGTON.

Pretty Maids Unable to Guess that Senator Beveridge's Picture Meant "A Gentleman from Indiana."

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 .- A pretty little story is going the rounds in Washington about Senator Beveridge. Washington society girls have a game called "Library," and although Senator Beveridge has not been taking part in it his name figured in a game the other morning. The young women usually play "Library," which is where the guests are all girls. In playing the game each girl must wear something that suggests a book. It is the scheme a third class of French the name of the book. On the occasion named one of the girls, a dainty young woman, was found to be wearing about her neck a portrait of Senator Beverldge, which she had picked up somewhere. When it came her time to put the others guessing she pointed to the portrait of Indiana's junior senator. First there was a chorus of "Isn't he good-looking," and then the bunch of femininity settled down to the perplexing problem of guessing what story the portrait of Mr. Beveridge would suggest. They guessed all sorts of things, but at each mention of a story the owner of the portrait shook her head. "You're all stupid." she declared at length, and then they guessed again. "I know," said a dark-haired girl. "It's "The Little Minister."

But the girl who had them all at sea said "Guess again." "Now I know I've got it, girls," declared another of the party, who knows the senator and his disposition. "'David Copperfield' is the story. You're a good guesser," said the girl with the necklace, "but that isn't it." The young women all said they would give it up, but consented to try once more. A girl with pouting lips said it must be

"Monsieur Beaucaire," having in mind Mr. Tarkington's novel, and the fact that Senator Beveridge is an 'ndianian. "You're getting warm," said the wearer of the portrait, "but you must guess

She then guessed "Peter Stirling." and this venture met with a protest. Why Senator Beveridge isn't a bit like that," cried a girl who had met the senator at a dinner. A half dozen other titles of books were suggested by the young women, and when a slender little beauty who resembled a pocket edition of the Gibson girl sang out "Van Bibber," she of the necklace decidd it was time to close the game. When she explained that her portrait represented "A Gentleman from Indiana" there was a chorus of "Oh, did you ever?" and "Why didn't I think of that?" and then the young women went down to the dining room for lunch

A dozen men who had been hired in this city to serve as coal and iron policemen during the strike said the disturbances were few and of a minor character. Daniel McKelvey, a justice of the peace of Hazleton, testified that the striking miners had offered to assist him in Byrne's Nomination Rejected. WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.-The Senate committee on judiciary to-day agreed to recommend that the nomination of William S. Byrne for district attorney of Delaware be rejected. This action was taken after an extended discusion. The ground for the action was the connection of Byrne with Delaware politics. It was agreed to delay the report in order to give the President an opportunity to withdraw the nomination. Mr. Byrne belonged to the Addicks faction in Delaware. He was formerly district attorney, but resigned to run for Congress on the Union or Addicks ticket. He was defeated and reappointed to his former position.

MORE MAN-OF-WAR CUTTERS FOR THE MAXINKUCKEE NAVY.

Improvement of the Ohio River Advocated by Indianians Before the House Committee.

WORKS MONEY

RECOMMENDED BUILDINGS IN THIS STATE.

An Appropriation of $600,000 for Indianapolis and Lesser Amounts for Other Cities-New Postmasters.

Staff Correspondence of the Journal. WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.-The navy that rides the waters of Lake Maxinkuckee is to be increased after all. The secretary of the navy, yielding to the argument of Representative Brick and impressed with the photographs of the maneuvers of the Culver cadets shown him by Mr. Brick, has consented to allow the academy two more man-of-war cutters. This will make four of these cutters for the use of the academy. Notwithstanding the fact that Admiral Bowles objected to letting more boats go to Maxinkuckee, Mr. Brick took up the matter with Secretary 1.00dy Saturday and to-day was informed that the boats could be had. The secretary was much interested in Mr. Brick's description of the school. One of the things that impressed him was the fact that the young men who use the boats are being trained for work in the has required the entire attention of four clerks. These employes will be detailed to navy without any expense on the part of the government and should they be needed is pointed out that in the case of the army there is no trouble to get men who can serve, as it requires no special training for a man to be able to shoulder a musket and go to the front. It is different where men are needed for the navy, for they must be trained for duty on the sea.

> A number of Indianians were present to-day at the hearing given the Ohio Improvement Association by the House committee on rivers and harbors. M. C. Garber, Charles R. Johnson and Gamaliel Thomas, of Madison, were before the committee and Frank B. Posey was there as the Indiana vice president of the association. Representatives Hemenway, Griffith and Zenor, of Indiana, were also present. Messrs. Posey, Garber and Griffith spoke for the Indiana people. They urged a favorable report on the Bromwell resolution, which appropriates $200,000 for a survey of the Ohio river from the mouth of the Miami to Cairo with a view to providing a nine-foot channel. The river from Pittsburg to the mouth of the Miami has already been surveyed for a six-foot stage, but the project of the Ohio River Improvement Association is to make such improvement as will give a nine-foot channel from Pittsburg to the Mississippi the entire year. It is estimated that these improvements will cost from $75,000,000 to $125,-000,000. The committee to-day indicated that nothing could be done at this session, as it would be irregular to ask for this appropriation after the river and harbor bill has already been reported. It is quite probable the appropriation will be allowed by the next Congress.

The sundry civil appropriation bill reported to the House to-day contained a number of Indiana items, the most of them appropriations for the continuation of work on Indiana federal buildings. These appropriations are based on estimates made by the supervising architect as to the amount he believes it will require until the next appropriations are made. In the Indiana list are the following building items: Anderson, $20,000; cost limit of building $80,-Crawfordsville, $12,500; cost limit, $50,-Elkhart, $21,250; cost limit, $85,000. Hammond, $35,000; cost limit, $140,000. Indianapolis, $600,000; cost limit, $2,200,100. Rental for Indianapolis federal buildings, $25,000. Logansport, $18,750; cost limit, $75,-000. The appropriation for the Marion Soldiers Home, aside from the regular appropriation for maintenance, is as follows: Quartermaster's storehouse and epuipment, $27,000;

ing, $15,000; officers' quarters, $4,000. Representative Watson has for two days been kept busy receiving telegrams from and the local committee having traction Ann Arbor, Mich., where his services are desired on Feb. 22. On Sunday he received seven telegrams requesting him to deliver an address at the university on the 22d, and to-day he received five messages urging him to come. He does not see his way clear to go, as his duties here require his close attention. The invitation is considered quite an honor as the five last speeches of this character made at Ann Arbor were by McKinley, Cleveland, Bryan, W. Bourke Cockran and Senator Fairbanks.

Frank B. Posey, who was in Washington to-day, said he was not announcing his candidacy for Governor this year. "A place on the Panama canal commission would about suit me," he said.

Representative Hemenway, of Indiana, to-day introduced a bill to pension all soldiers and sailors who served at least ninety days in the civil war, at the rate of $12 per month, and all widows of such soldiers and sallors who were married prior to June 27, 1890.

Details of the Rout of the Pretender

by Morocco's Sultan. TANGIER, Morocco, Feb. 2.-The details of the Sultan's victory Thursday over the forces of the pretender, Bu Hamara, show that the battle was stubbornly contested and that the former's success was largely due to the co-operation at a critical moment of the Beni Ourein tribe, whose defection from the rebels the Sultan had previously purchased. The artillery of the imperial forces, which were commanded by the minister of war, El Menebhi, consisted of eight Maxims and four Krupps. The Sultan's troops opened the attack early in the morning and shortly afterward the pretender's camp was assailed in the rear by the Beni Oureins. In spite of the surprise and disadvantages of position the robel stubbornly maintained their ground and desperate fighting continued for three hours. The slaughter was very great. The remnants of the rebel army then broke, abandoned the camp and fled in the direction of Tazab. The imperial troops are pursuing the fugitives and if Bu Hamara 's not among the slain his capture is confidently expected. El Menebhi is pushing on with the object of entirely crushing the rebellion and punishing the disloyal tribes. He reports that he found the rebels much more numerous than expected, but that he captured all their war ammunitions. There is great rejoicing at Fez as a result of the victory of the Sultan's forces.
